Central Jewish Institute Graduation

Impressive graduation exercises were held in the auditorium of the Central Jewish Institute on Sunday night, October 6th, at which fourteen students of the Talmud Torah received their diplomas. The speaker of the evening was Rabbi Joseph H. Lookstein and the ceremonies were presided over by Judge Isaac Cohen, President of the Institute. The diplomas were distributed by Mr. Nathan B. Kogan and a brief address was delivered by Mrs. Edward Epstein. Babette Kass presented the Jane Fischel Memorial Prize. All in all it appears then that Kehilath Jeshurun was quite well represented at these exercises.

In his address, Rabbi Lookstein praised the work of the Institute and expressed the hope that more parents of the community would come to realize the advantages that the Institute is in a position to offer to their children.

"This Talmud Torah", the Rabbi said, "must become the Talmud Torah of the community."

Succah Fund Will Welcome Contributions

Requests for contributions to the Succah Fund will soon be in the mail and it is hoped that the response will be immediate and substantial. The Sisterhood, as always, will be in charge of the decorations, and is looking forward to a generous response from its members and friends. Mr. Herman Goldman, a very devoted

Your Children's Religious Education

The parent who overlooks the religious education of his children in these days is guilty of unpardonable short-sightedness. Now more than ever must we endow our children with spiritual strength and with pride in their Jewishness. Attendance at synagogue services, praying, fasting, atoning—all of that is meaningless if it is not followed by constructive Judaism. And nothing is more constructive than bequeathing to our young the cultural heritage we received from our ancestors.

The Talmud Torah of the Central Jewish Institute offers a wholesome Jewish education distributed over three days of the week—two afternoons and Sunday morning. Not only are the children given formal instruction in the Hebrew language, Bible, customs and ceremonies and current events, but they are made aware of Jewish community life and taught to take their place in it. A capable staff of teachers and an excellent principal provide the instruction.

Registration of new students is now going on. Members and seatholders of our congregation may consult Rabbi Lookstein or apply directly to the Institute adjoining the synagogue.

member of our Synagogue, was the first to send his contribution, and a very liberal one it was! Large or small, everything will be greatly appreciated. Send your donation to the office, at once.

Packages for Annual Rummage Sale Flood Office

"Preparedness" seems to be the key-word to-day, even as far as the Annual Rummage and Bazaar is concerned. We are being deluged with packages from our good friends who, dismantling their homes, moving, refurnishing, remember the Sisterhood and send their discarded merchandise to us. At this time we are greatly indebted to the Messrs. Ganz, Singer, Klein, Abrahams, Tausky, Polcher, M. Bernstein, A. Miller, Samuels, S. B. Cooperman, and Miss Rose Silverstein. We trust we will continue to merit their cooperation and support. The TUDOR STORAGE AND MOVING CO. has

Juliette Ashner to Discuss

Current Books

Sisterhood members will recall with genuine delight the very enjoyable afternoon spent last year when JULIETTE T. ASHNER discussed several current books of the day. We are again privileged to hear this outstanding interpreter, critic, and analyst of books and plays, at the meeting of the Sisterhood, to be held MONDAY, OCTOBER 14th, at the home of MRS. JACOB RUDD, 1049 Park Avenue.

Mrs. Ashner will discuss "AS I REMEMBER HIM", "YOU CAN'T GO HOME AGAIN" and "MRS. MINIVER", three books everyone is talking about. Read them if you can, but in any event be sure to attend this meeting. Please come promptly at 12:30 and have lunch with the hostess of the afternoon.

Welcome

It is with great pleasure we announce that MR. HERMAN FLIGLER, of 1100 Park Avenue, has joined our congregation. We are confident his association with our Synagogue will be a happy one and we want to assure him of a very hearty welcome.

Many Thanks!

We are most grateful to our President, MR. MAX J. ETRA, for his contribution of forty-five Machzorim for the High Holy Days. His generosity made it possible for many worshippers to use a uniform prayer-book, which in turn, made the services more beautiful and impressive to the individual than ever before.

We are sincerely appreciative to MR. JACOB H. ALPERT for his gift of a very beautiful cover for the Reading Desk and vestments for the Torah in the Chapel of the Synagogue. This was a contribution in memory of his beloved parents, a most fitting manner in which to honor them.

THE RIVERSIDE

Not one bereaved family has ever been denied the advantage of a Riverside funeral because they could not afford the cost... and we've been in business for fifty years.
