RAMAZ UPPER SCHOOL LIBRARY DEDICATED

Amidst appropriate ceremonies last Sunday afternoon the Ramaz Library at the Upper School Building, 22 East 82nd Street, was dedicated in memory of the late Benjamin and Sarah Hannah Brown.

The dedication was made possible through the generosity of the entire Brown family, several members of which are associated with our Congregation and with the Ramaz School. Mr. and Mrs. A. Milton Brown, Theodore Brown and Nathan Brown are among the most ardent workers and devoted participants in every phase of our congregational life. Two of the Brown children, Warren and Benjamin, are students at Ramaz School.

In addition to members of the family, the dedication service was witnessed by the officers and trustees of the Ramaz and the officers of the Congregation, Men's Club, Sisterhood and Ramaz Parents' Council. Mr. Saul J. Lance, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of Ramaz School, presided. The address of dedication was delivered by Rabbi Lookstein and the musical portions of the serv-

CHANUKA SERVICES IN THE SYNAGOGUE

This Saturday is Sabbath Chanuka. The service, therefore, will be a special one and it should be attended by all. In addition to the beautiful Chanukah prayers and melodies, Rosh Chodesh prayers will be recited for the month of Tebeth. Our cantor has prepared for this Sabbath a special program of liturgical selections, among them "Al Hanism" by Brody and "Mimkomo" by Dunayevsky.

Come with your family to the Synagogue this Saturday and celebrate Chanuka in a traditional and fitting manner.

The occasion was a most impressive one. Those present were moved when the Rabbi spoke of the life of Benjamin and Sarah Hannah Brown, pious, God-fearing and heroic pi-

A NOTE TO THE RABBI'S RADIO TALKS

If you have found the Rabbi's radio talks interesting, it would be helpful to the program if you would write to Station WJZ, 30 Rockefeller Plaza, New York, and express your opinion. It is in that way that Jewish programs of the high calibre of "The Message of Israel" continue on the air.

This Sunday morning, Rabbi Lookstein will speak on "A Religious Definition of Beauty." Another outstanding talk awaits you, so tune in over WJZ at 10:00 o'clock.

oneers of the Jewish community in New York, who consecrated their efforts principally towards the advancement of Jewish education in our city. It was most gratifying, he said, that the children and grandchildren are continuing the tradition set by their forebears and are contributing their spirit and substance to Jewish education, philanthropy and the up-building of the State of Israel.

The Ramaz School and the Congregation, which is the sponsor of the institution, are happy to acknowledge their gratitude to the entire Brown family for a gift that is not only useful but that will remain as an eternal monument to those who were genuinely deserving of it.

PARENTS' CLUB TO AWARD RADIO AT CHANUKAH ASSEMBLY

This Sunday morning, at the Chanukah Assembly of the Religious School, the Parents' Club will award the main prize, a radio, to the holder of the lucky number in the raffle it has been conducting these past few weeks.

The drawing will be one the features of the morning's program, which also includes a stage presentation entitled "The Chanukah Pickets" by the Dramatics Club of the School; a puppet show put on by the Arts and Crafts Club; and numerous other musical and recitative selections.

The Assembly will take place in the Auditorium at 11:00 o'clock, and a cordial invitation is extended to our readers, young and old, to attend. May we remind the members of the Parents' Club that all raffle-books and monies that have not as yet been turned in, should be brought in on Sunday so that the stubs may be among those to be picked.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S MINYAN CHANUKAH SERVICE

This Sunday morning, the Young People's Minyan will conduct Chanukah services in the chapel at 9:30 o'clock. In addition to the regular complement of young cantors — consisting this week of Morris Amitay, George Gruen, Abraham Gubbay and Sylvan Kleinhaus — Haskel Lookstein will lead the Hallel service and Seymour Sadinoff will read the Portion of the Torah for that day of Chanukah.

The meaning of the festival and its implications for our times will be discussed in a brief sermon to be delivered by Iris Gordon on "The Significance of Chanukah in the World today." The quality of the sermonettes over the past few weeks has reached unusual heights in both interesting content and beautiful delivery. We are sure that Iris's talk this Sunday will continue this tradition of inspiring sermonettes.

After the service, a community breakfast will again be served

BOY SCOUTS CELEBRATE FIRST ANNIVERSARY

Boy Scout Troop No. 640, sponsored by our Men's Club, celebrated the first anniversary of its formation last Thursday evening, in a short impressive ceremony in the Gymnasium.

Present that evening were the Yorkville District Scout Executive, the Scout Commissioner and Assistant Scout Commissioner of this District and the members of the Men's Club Troop Committee. The members of the Troop were given their Registration Certificates for the coming year and the Troop as a whole was commended very highly for the progress it made in the first year of its existence. Ira F. Weisman, President of the Men's Club, spoke briefly in behalf of the sponsoring organization.

We extend our felicitations to the boys in the Troop, and thank most heartily Martin Klein, our Scoutmaster, and Dr. Ned Wachtel, Cubmaster.
