

"INTERFAITH ON THE CAMPUS" TO BE DISCUSSED AT COLLEGIATE SABBATH

The college men and women of Kehilath Jeshurun who are home for the winter vacation will be our guests at a special service in their honor on Saturday morning, December 24th. A special feature of that day will be a discussion by collegiates on the theme "Interfaith Activities on the College Campus."

Our panelists for this discussion will be Menorah Lebowitz, daughter of our esteemed members, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lebowitz and Ralph Perlberger, son of our devoted members, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Perlberger.

Menorah, a graduate of the Ramaz School, attends Barnard College. Ralph, who is now studying at the Harvard School of Law, received his B.A. degree from Stanford University. Both these young people have made their mark in college and it should prove enlightening to hear their comments on the Interfaith activities situation on the campuses they have attended and are now attending.

At the close of services in the Main Synagogue, the congregation will proceed to the Auditorium of the Synagogue House where this discussion will take place. During the services in the morning our young men will receive Torah honors to the extent that the weekly portion will permit. All the young ladies will be remembered with floral corsages in honor of the occasion.

A special buffet kiddush will be served in the Social Hall to bring the morning activities to a close. Our Men's Club and Sisterhood will act as hosts.

Congregation Urged to Attend —

It is very desirable for all parents, whether or not they have children in college to be in Synagogue on this Saturday. Their presence will serve as an example of Synagogue attendance and as an encouragement to the youth of the congregation.

JEWRY DUTY

We would like here to thank those of our members who served on "Jewry Duty" and attended services this past week. They are: Benjamin Gottesman, Joseph Kagan, Louis Olshan and Eugene Hollander.

Our volunteers for the coming week are Nathan Brown, Theodore Brown, Dr. Theodore R. Fink and Israel Jacobs.

DONATION OF WINE DECANTER

We would like to express here our thanks to our devoted members, Mr. and Mrs. Hyman I. Cohen for their contribution of a lovely wine decanter to be used during the Kiddush Ceremony.

Rabbi Lookstein will preach this Sabbath at 11:00 a.m.

SISTERHOOD GIVEN A TREAT ON SKIN TREATMENT

A fine turnout of Sisterhood members and friends was on hand this past Monday to listen to the guest speaker, Dr. Thelma G. Warshaw, Sisterhood member, who is a specialist in dermatology. Dr. Warshaw's theme was "A Doctor Looks at Cosmetics and Skin Care."

Today's advertising preaches all kinds of treatment and promises all kinds of results. Dr. Warshaw presented the medical view on which beauty aids were and were not effective. She covered a good deal of ground on skin and hair care, and her talk proved to be a most enlightening one for the audience.

Prior to this discussion a regular meeting was held, a dessert luncheon was served and Chanukah candles were lit.

New Member —

We are happy to welcome Mrs. Martin De Graaff into our Sisterhood and we extend to her our best wishes for a long and rewarding stay with us.

NOTES ON THE WEEKLY PORTION

Mikez

Chapter XLI emphasizes an important ingredient of Joseph's personality. Joseph, the young man who liked to dream, at the age of 30 becomes a man eminently qualified to deal with a practical problem on a national scale. Being a "dreamer" in adolescence is apparently useful for success in maturity (see Dr. Hertz on Verse 33 to 36).

Why did Joseph, in the incidents described in Chapters XLII, XLIII and XLIV, deal so harshly with his brothers? Did he want to retaliate against them for selling him into slavery? A revengeful person does not cry (see Verse 24 of Chapter XLII and Verse 30 of Chapter XLIII). Nor would he, were he filled with hatred, return his brothers' money to them in the manner described (Verse 25 Chapter XLII). The reason for his apparent cruelty to his brothers is suggested by Dr. Hertz in his comment on Verse 7 of Chapter XLII.

Chapter XLIII describes the brothers' second trip to Egypt for food. This time they must bring Benjamin with them. To allay their father's fears over losing his youngest son, both Reuben and Judah offer to be held personally responsible for him. Compare Reuben's wild assurance (Verse 37 of Chapter XLII) with Judah's statement (Verses 8 and 9 of Chapter XLIII) and see Dr. Hertz on Verse 9.

CHANUKAH CELEBRATED IN SPIRITED FASHION AT MEN'S CLUB - SISTERHOOD PARTY

Although no champagne was served everyone bubbled over with good cheer at the Chanukah Party sponsored by our Men's Club and Sisterhood last Saturday evening. The high spirits were not the kind found in bottles. Although this is an annual affair there was more good fun than at any previous one and those who did not attend missed a most unusual evening.

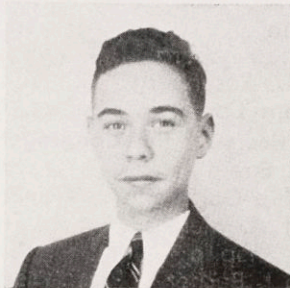

The Social Hall was beautifully decorated and the tables were set up night club style. But the mood of the evening was more than the delightful decorations, good food and stylish music. It was something that can only come when warm friends get together to celebrate a joyous event.

The program got under way with the lighting of the candles. Cantor Konigsberg then rendered operatic selections in his own inimitable way. We also had Chalil solos, community singing and dance contests. To top it all off a hearty Buffet was served.

We would like here to express our thanks and appreciation to the chairmen of this Party who spent long hours in its preparation: Mrs. Reuben Popkin and Mrs. Edgar Trautman and Norman Halper and Elgin Shulsky. The decorations and food arrangements were ably taken care of by Mrs. Popkin and Mrs. Trautman who were aided by Mesdames Hyman Abrams, Alexander Gross and Joseph H. Lookstein.

It was the kind of gala occasion that makes you look forward to the next get-together.

GILBERT N. KAHN BAR MITZVAH

We extend our heartiest Mazel Tov wishes to our esteemed members, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Kahn, on the Bar Mitzvah this Saturday of their son, Gilbert.

Gilbert began his Religious education in our Talmud Torah and when his family moved to New Rochelle he continued his studies there. He is in the 8th grade at the Albert Leonard School where his favorite studies are the sciences. He hopes to become either a physicist or chemist. Gilbert's spare time is spent on his stamp collection and playing baseball.

At services which will be held in our Synagogue this Saturday, Gilbert will read the entire Torah portion as well as chant the Haftorah.
