CHIEF RABBI OF ISRAELI ARMY OUR GUEST THIS SATURDAY

Hero of Sinai Campaign Will Occupy Pulpit

Rabbi Solomon Goren, Chief Rabbi of the Israeli Army, will be the guest of our Congregation this Sabbath. The renowned hero of the Sinai campaign, who has spent several weeks in this country and is about to return to Israel, will spend his final Sabbath in America, at Kehilath Jeshurun.

It is fitting that on this Sabbath Chanukah, associated historically with the glorious deeds of the Maccabees, we should have in our midst one who, as part of the Israeli Army, is symbolic of the modern Maccabees.

Rabbi Goren is one of the great Talmudic scholars of our day, trained under the tutelage of the late Chief Rabbi Kook. Rabbi Goren early acquired a reputation as a Talmudic genius. He is the author of an important rabbinic work and is now engaged in publishing a further monumental work on the Jerusalem Talmud. To be at once a great scholar as well as an accomplished parachutist, is part of the record of this most unusual person.

It is needless to urge all of our congregants to be in the Synagogue this Saturday. All that is necessary is to remind the Kehilath Jeshurun family that this will be a rare opportunity to be in the presence of one who deserves every honor, tribute and recognition.

Rabbi Solomon Goren

Chanukah Greetings

We extend to all our members and friends best wishes for a Happy Chanukah.

RABBI HOLLANDER ELECTED ASSISTANT RABBI

Rabbi Albert Hollander, who came to us in June as a Rabbinic Assistant, was elected last Monday night by the Trustees of the Congregation, as Assistant Rabbi. He will be charge of our Religious School, and of the Adult Educational activities. In addition, he will also perform the various administrative functions required, including the publication of our weekly Bulletin.

Rabbi Hollander, ordained by Yeshiva University, is now working towards his doctorate. He is a former Chaplain in the United States Army, with a fine record of service in the Far East.

We wish him continued success in the enlarged scope of his activities.

WELCOME, COLLEGIATES

At this season of the year, the collegiates of Kehilath Jeshurun are returning from the various campuses to spend the winter vacation with their families.

We extend a hearty welcome to them, and in accordance with our usual practice, we invite them to the Collegiate Sabbath on Saturday, December 28th. There will be, as in the past, Torah honors for the young men, cor-sages for the young women.

Fuller details about the Collegiate Sabbath will appear in the next issue of the Bulletin.

NEW HONOR TO RABBI LOOKSTEIN

Rabbi Lookstein was elected vice-president of the Religious Education Association at its recent convention in Chicago. The membership includes the outstanding leaders in the field of religious education among Jews, Catholics and Protestants. Congratulations, Rabbi!

CHANUKAH NOTES

With the onset of December, Jewish parents are faced with a delicate problem. All the media of communication bombard the home and street with the message of the religious holiday of our neighbors. Small wonder that children are attracted by the spell of the overall holiday atmosphere.

But wholehearted Chanukah celebrations should stem from a desire to praise the Lord for the deliverances of yore which are repeated in our own days, rather than from a reaction to outside forces.

Let us joyously celebrate Chanukah for its own sake.

KIDDUSH HOSTS

This Saturday morning, Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Zessman will be our hosts at Kiddush in honor of the wedding of their son, Jules, to Miss Marilyn Grossman.

MINYAN MEMO

The Father and Son Minyan is rolling along in midseason form. The pronunciation is more precise, the singing more lusty, the eating more hearty, and the basket shooting more accurate. In short, the Minyan now in its tenth consecutive season is more successful than ever.

Nearly everyone takes his turn as cantor, and the cantors are becoming more and more proficient as time goes on. Among those who have served admirably in this capacity during the past three weeks are: George Baumgarten, Raymond Brenner, Joel Levy, Carmi Margolis, Joel Podell, Jerry Pollack, Ian Schor, Henry Sobel, Evan Torczyner and Jimmy Torczyner.

Next Sunday the Minyan will celebrate Chanukah with a special gala service. Officiating as cantors will be Mark Bieler, Jerry Bruss and Daniel Le-wittes. Raymond Brenner will read the Torah.

If you have not as yet attended one of our services, or if you had come but discontinued, why not make a special effort to come this Sunday morning? The prayers for Chanukah will be recited, the appropriate melodies sung, and a festive spirit will prevail. As usual, the service will begin at 9:30.

A note of thanks — The minyan expresses its gratitude to Mr. Max Shor who presented a new basketball this past Sunday as a Chanukah gift. Mr. Shor, who attends regularly with his son Jonathen, has promised to bring additional balls next week.

RELIGIOUS SCHOOL STUDENTS TO PRESENT CHANUKA PAGEANT

This Sunday morning at 10:30 the students of the Religious School will present their annual Chanuka Pageant. Through the medium of choral reading, group singing and instrumental accompaniment, the students will vividly portray the significance of the Maccabean Temple in Jewish History. The entire presentation will be in Hebrew and was prepared under the general direction of Mr. Raphael Adler, music teacher of the Religious School.

A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend this pageant. Chanuka gifts will be distributed to the children.
